PARIS, Nov. 1.-(P)-Military sources eported today that French troops had lought off a German force of 1,000 men attempting to encircle a French frontier village on the northern flanks of the western front. The Germany were said to have attacked yesterday in an area extending from west of Saarlouis to the Blies river valley, east of Saarbruecken, but the identity of the threatened village was not disclosed, nor were casualties mentioned. The French said they took six prise oners and were questioning them today in an effort to learn the significance of growing German infantry

A proposed ordinance would limit the use of sound trucks in the downdown fire district to the hours between noon and 1 p.m. and 5 to 6. p.m. The time that these would be allowed in the residence sections is proposed as from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 4 to 8 pm. These hours were agreed upon by owners and operators of sound trucks and are regarded as such as will cause least possible publie inconvenience

Certain business firms also are said to have louispeakers in their doorways, which are declared to be objectionable to persons located in the immediate vicinity. These are to be eliminated if the proposed ordinance is passed by the city of Monroe.

ARMY MAY TRIP TIRED IRISHMEN

Notre Dame Eleven Takes On Another Tough Opponent Saturday

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 1.-(4)-Army will be in a strategic spot to hang a knockout punch on a battere somewhat tired Notre Dame football team next Saturday in New York.

No one knows this any better then the Irish thin man, Coach Elmer Layden. Off the seasonal records, the West Point eleven doesn't shape up as a match for a team undefeated in five games and holding a chance for an undefeated year. But the fact that a comparison of acores makes the Irish the choice to win has the Notre Dame mentor worried no end.

"Recalling some of the games Notre Dame has had with Army, I'm convinced that the so-called underdeg in this game should be made the favorite," Layden said Tuesday. "We have to point for this game every year. Army always seems to play its best game against us-and its a cinch they'll come to Saturday's game the strongest they've been this season."

Should the Irish suffer a let-down

"It's been tough going," Layden said. 'The boys are pretty well battered up and at least five regulars nced a rest. But we'll probably have to use them against Army."

For spirit, alertness and determination. Layden rates this Irish team the equal of any Notre Dame team he has coached. The Irish have had to produce those qualities in big doses, principally because Bob Saggau, the only Irish triple threat back, has been handicapped by a leg injury suffered in the opener with Purdue.
